

Presales Engineer in southern Florida

Company

DAVANTIS is a leading technology company that develops artificial intelligence-based and computer vision video analytics solutions.

We develop highly sophisticated proprietary algorithms to protect and ensure security for businesses, properties and critical infrastructures.

Present in more than 40 countries and with 40,000 video channels sold around the world, DAVANTIS has been at the forefront of video analytics since 2005.

Be part of our team

If you have proven experience in the security market and CCTV systems, you could be just the person we are looking for.

Based in southern Florida, your main task will be to travel around the US supporting our sales team to present intelligent video analytics systems to our potential customers.

What are we looking for?

Main tasks

- Demonstrate products to customers
- Give face-to-face and remote training courses to customers in Spanish and English
- Configure intelligent video surveillance systems at customer facilities
- Face-to-face, telephone and remote technical support to customers

Two years of experience in CCTV and video surveillance systems (with a security camera manufacturer, a security distributor, installer or integrator).

Our wish list

- Senior Engineer or Technician in Computer Science or Telecommunications or similar
- Willingness to travel regularly in Florida, the US and worldwide
- Fluent in English and Spanish
- Other languages are an advantage
- Good business and personal relationship skills
- Experience in computer systems administration is a bonus
- Own vehicle
- Willingness to spend most of the time out of the office in contact with customers

What we offer

- Personal and professional development in a leading video analytics company
- Comfortable, pleasant work environment
- International training and prospects
- Full time employment with flexible hours
